

Dr. Peter Seiler, a Deaf professional with a BA degree in English and a doctorate in Education Administration, is a licensed teacher of the Deaf in the state of Kansas. He also has state teacher license for teaching English and reading, building principal and district superintendent. Dr. Seiler has taught English and Reading to students in Grades 5 through 12 and college Deaf students. He has provided tutoring in English, reading, social studies, social sciences, and remedial and general math to Deaf adults. Dr. Seiler has served as a consultant to businesses in personnel employment issues involving Deaf employees, Deaf customer satisfaction and services, and modification of the work environment to allow Deaf employees greater access to communication. His 30 plus years of experiences include school administration, college teaching, and teaching and tutoring of American Sign Language.

Currently, he is the Executive Director for the Nebraska Commission for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing.