

Ruby & Shelly

by Natalie Buss

Once upon a time there was a little baby called Shelly.

She grew up quick, and she got a friend. Her friend was named Ruby.

Shelly went to the beach one day in the wintertime to be warm. She saw Ruby there, "Hi!" Shelly said. "Hi," said Ruby.

It was so warm at the beach that they didn't even need jackets or coats, only sun hats with a brim. Ruby and Shelly played together with a beachball and played in the ocean, too.

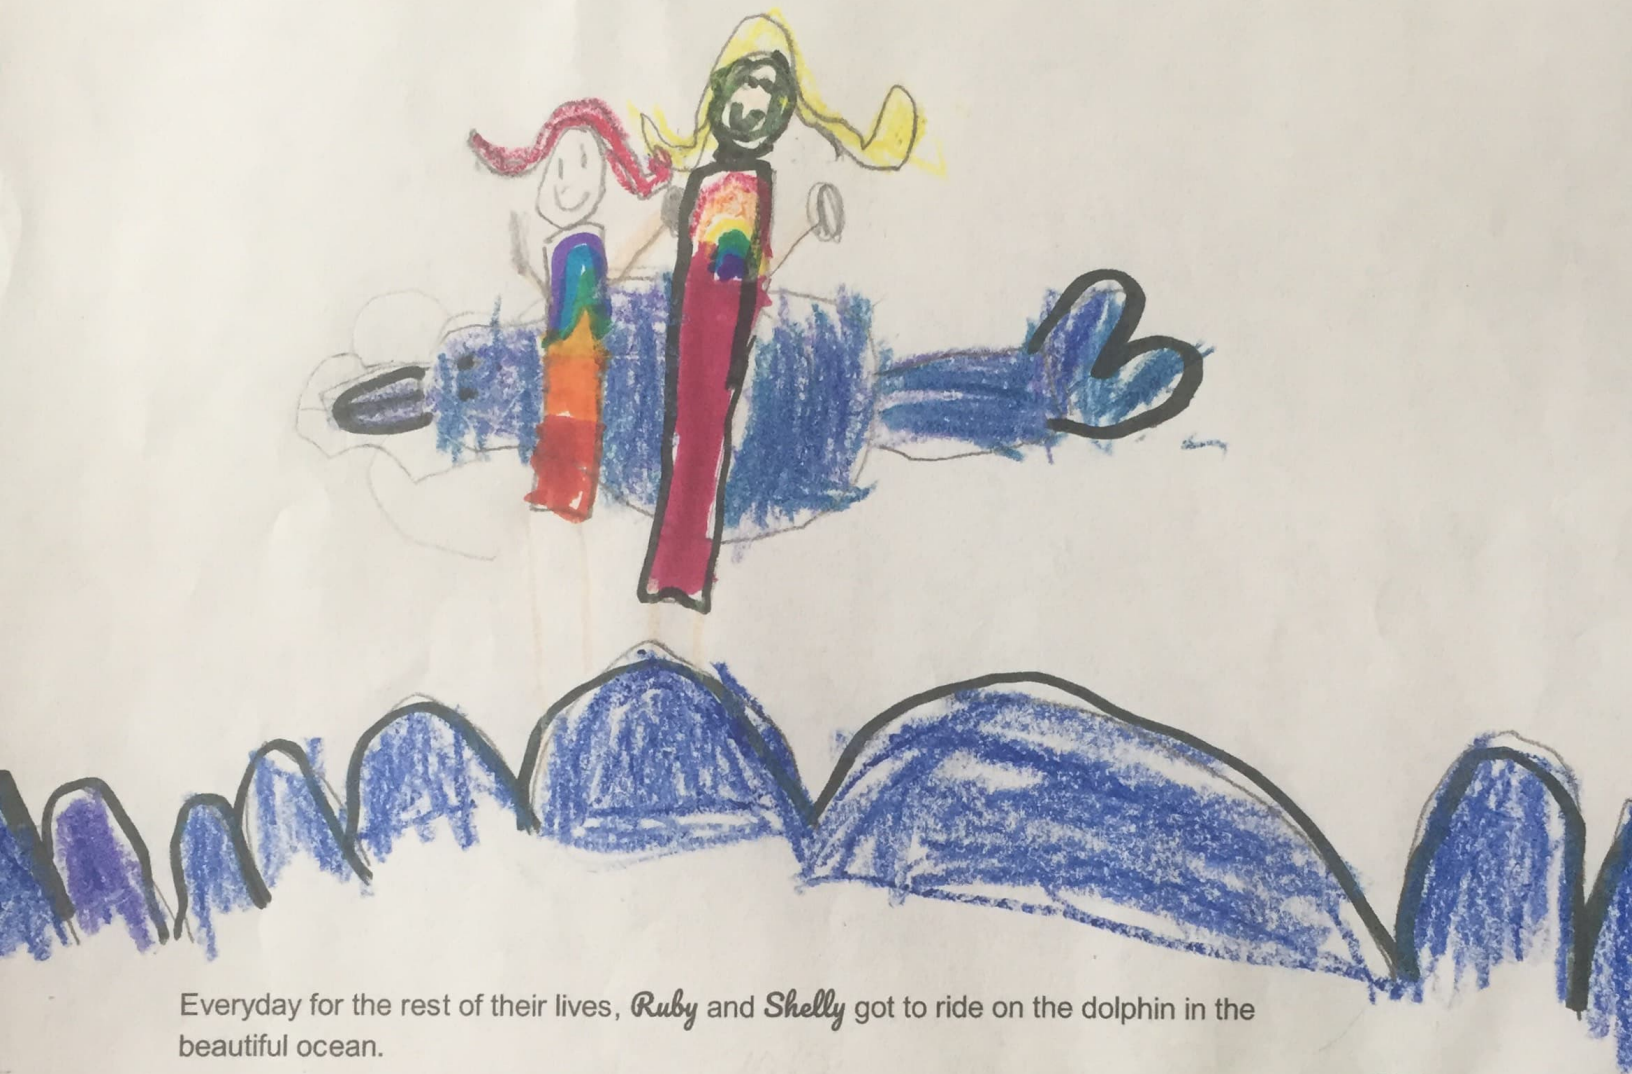

The girls climbed a rock. When they got up to the very top of the rock they saw a dolphin!
Then they were excited and jumped down fast.

Then they ran to the dolphin, and when the ocean got deep, they swam towards the dolphin.
They started to swim quickly and they reached the dolphin.

Both Shelly and Ruby got to sit on the dolphin, because it was big enough for both of them.
The dolphin swam back to the beach and the girls said "Good bye!" to her.

Everyday for the rest of their lives, Ruby and Shelly got to ride on the dolphin in the beautiful ocean.

The End
